ABOUT ME

I proudly hold a diploma in Information Systems from Bina Sarana Informatika University. My journey further led me to a comprehensive full-stack developer bootcamp. I'm captivated by the world of full-stack development, where I've showcased my skills by conceiving and bringing to life projects from their inception to full deployment. Harnessing the power of React.js for the frontend and leveraging Go for the backend, I've ventured into crafting seamless digital experiences.
